

Tim & Dot Tyne's Viable Self-Sufficiency Checklist

1. Vegetables

Where your crops well used this year?

Yes?
If No...

Only grow what you all like to eat.

Don't grow more than you need.

Consider more ways to preserve gluts.

Be more organised about harvesting

Consider getting a pig to eat up waste.

Did you manage an all year round harvest?

Yes?
If No...

Look carefully at your cropping plan to spot gaps.

Reduce the 'hungry gap' by planting autumn sown beans, peas & brassicas.

Consider extending the growing season with a polytunnel or greenhouse.

Where the crops you grew strong & healthy?

Yes?
If No...

Check soil nutrition, apply farmyard manure and/or liquid feeds.

Look out for pests and diseases

Check you have been they have been well watered.

go to www.homefarmer.co.uk/viable-self-sufficiency-checklist.

Tim and Dot Tyne's Book...

Viable
Self-Sufficiency

The Ultimate Guide to Living off the Land

Available May 2016

